Thinking Out Loud

By H. M. L.

We note with amusement that Governor Culbert Olson now claims that the cash balance of $22,000,000, which reposes in the California state treasury has been accumulated as the result of his careful husbandry of the tax-payers money. Anyone whose memory can stretch over the last year will know what a barefaced perversion of the truth this is. It was Olson who bucked, kicked and squealed like a bad-tempered mustang when he feels the cinch draw every time the legislature tightened up on his profligate spending. The fact that there is a balance in tre thearus, is an accident with which the governor had nothing to do. It was the accident of war. Almost a million people came into the state, the men to work in plane and ship plants, and their presence added tremendously to the sales and other taxes. Olson probably senses by this time that he is on his way out. His silly plea that he should be re-elected because there is a balance in the state treasury smacks of desperation.

The state electorate, we believe, will not hesitate in making a choice between Earl Warren and Culbert Olson. Warren is a war veteran. He has faithfully and excellently acquitted himself of the two public offices he has held, district attorney of Alameda County, and Attorney General of California. He is young, able and honest. Olson gulled the Ham'n' Eggers, leading them to think he was for them and their pension-for-life schemes. But the moment he became governor he repudiated them. He has liberated from California prisons five red-handed murderers. He stands without equal in the history of the state as an irresponsible wastrel, a political weather-vane without convictions, and an unprincipled charlatan. The sober and thinking members of his own party have turned upon him.

One has only to look at his record to come to the conclusion that Olson, whose entire administration has been a distorted copy of the Roosevelt administration, has miserably failed as a public servant. Warren boldly announces that, if elected, he will be governor of all the people. He promises no favors to special groups. He is independent and will not jeopardize that stand by catering to the visionaries and axe-grinders that helped elect Olson four years ago.

One thing that Earl Warren is doing that will win him thanks among all groups regardless of political credos. He has made such a protest to Congress that practically the entire California delegation is seeking to amend the old age pension law so that aged persons can again earn $15 a month and not have the amount deducted from their allowance. Last year the Federal Government compelled the welfare administrator of California to adhere strictly to the law and refuse aged persons the right to earn money in addition to their pensions. Governor Olson talked about it, but did nothing. Warren has done something. He expects to get action in congress.

MERTEN BODY SENT TO NEVADA

The body of Rudolph M. Merten, 59, former underground foreman at the North Star Mine, was shipped to Tonopah, Nev., for funeral rites and burial. Arrangements were handled by the Hooper-Weaver Mortuary in Grass Valley.

Merten, familiarly known to North Star employees as "Beans", came to Nevada County 11 years ago from Nevada, where he had mined for years. Several months ago he retired because of ill health.

The deceased leaves his wife, Agnes and a daughter, June Merten. He was a member of the Nevada County Mine Workers Protective League.

Aged Man Dies From Fight Hurts

District Attorney Vernon Stoll is studying the possibility of filing a murder charge against Claude Prine, 36, for the fatal beating of John Tersen, 65 year old resident of the Union Hill district near Grass Valley. Tersen died yesterday in the Community Hospital in Grass Valley, ten days after he was beaten by Prine, who is now in the county jail serving 60 days for battery in connection with the case.

Preston Underwood, 29, who was arrested for particiating in the assault upon Tersen but later released may again be taken into custory, officers intimated.

Coroner A. M. Holmes said an inquest will be held but no date has been set. The body of Tersen is at the Hooper-Weaver Mortuary in Grass Valley.

Prine and Underwood were arrested by Captain Joseph Blake and Patrolman Carl Kitts of the California Highway Patrol two hours after the affray. The officers learned Tersen was beaten because Prine and Underwood objected to his suggestion that they move their car from the driveway in the cabin court in which he lived so Tersen could drive through.

For a while it appeared Tersen probably would recover from his injuries but Tuesday his condition became critical and he succumbed early Wednesday. Although Prine has already been sentenced on the battery charge it is possible to prefer a more serious charge against him as the result of Tersen's death.

LAVA CAP PRODUCTION NEAR NORMAL

General Manager Otto Schiffner of the Lava Cap Mining Corporation reported production at the Central and Banner Mines, operated by the corporation, is nearer normal now than since the war started.

The employment at the Lava Cap properties has been increased by fifty men during the past couple of weeks, due principally to an eight cent per hour boost in wages and the fact the Lava Cap work is now considered war essential.

Schiffner said although production is about normal the mines are still short of men for development work.

The employment at the Lava Cap Mines is approximately 275 men. The employment office of the Lava Cap has been moved to Shaws Hill, above Hills Flat. It formerly was located at Town Talk. It was moved to the new location because it is near the home of Charles Gibson, employment manager and those seeking work can contact him at any time instead of just on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, previous rustling days.

GROUP OF FRIENDS GATHER TO HONOR MRS. MINNIE YOUNG

Mrs. Annie Browning gave a surprise party Tuesday night in honor of the birthday of Mrs. Minnie Young.

Mrs. Young went to dinner in town as a guest of Wilma Weege and when they returned home they found a large group of friends gathered in Mrs. Young's home, their presence becoming known when they started singing "Happy Birthday to You." Mrs. Young received many gifts.

Whist prizes were won by Mrs. Young, Mrs. Tom Maguire and Mrs. Nance James. Refreshments were enjoyed following the playing of cards.

Those in attendance were:

Mesdames Carl J. Tobiassen, Nance James, Howard Burr, Annie Browning, Alfred Haddy, Tom Maguire, Ed Martine, Al Williams, William Hatch, Mrs. Young and Miss Gertrude Wilde and Wilma Weege.

Reurns From Sacramento—

Mrs. H. F. Sofge has returned from Sacramento, where she spent several days visiting with her daughter.

QUICKSILVER MINE OPTIONED BY I.-M. CORP.

Albert Crase, general manager of the Idaho-Maryland Mines Corporation, the state's leading producer of gold, has announced an option has been taken by the corporation on the Midway Quicksilver Mine near San Jose.

He said no plans have been made except for a thorough testing of the mine. Rollin Farmin, head engineer for the Idaho-Maryland Corporation and Joe Landis, a member of the engineering staff, are examining the mine.

The mine has been on a small scale production basis and a furnace is located at the property.

The optioning of the quicksilver mine is in line with a policy recently adopted by the company to enter the essential war mineral production field. Several chrome and manganese mines were examined in Nevada County but apparently none warranted large scale operations.

California Hydraulic Mining Association Presents Life Membership Card To Hannum

Colonel Warren G. Hannum of the California Debris Commission was presented with a gold studded life membership card in the California Hydraulic Mining Association at the Sunday meeting in Auburn of the organization.

The presentation of the card, which contained samples of gold from 40 different hydraulic and gravel mining properties in Northern California w,as made by C. W. Haffey of Colfax, retiring president of the hydraulic mining group.

Congressman Harry L. Englebright of Nevada City, who several years ago was presented with a similar life membership card, sent a congratulatory telegram to Colonel Hannum.

Secretary W. W. Esterly reported on the scrap metal drive, saying the goal for the association is 1,000 tons. Esterly announced scrap metal can be deposited at the scrap pile established on his property at Hills Flat.

The next meeting will be held on August 9th in the Nevada City vicinity. The meeting was presided over by George Hallock.

LUMBER CO. EMPLOYEE HURT

Blaine Farmer, caterpillar operator for the Oak Valley Lumber Company near Camptonville, suffered critical injuries late Tuesday when a large stump fell upon his back.

Farmer was engaged in dragging logs with the caterpillar and was unaware the logs had hooked onto a large stump. The stump was propelled onto the caterpillar, crushing Farmer between the stump and the caterpillar.

LAST RITES HELD FOR MRS. CHAPMAN

Nevada Cityans yesterday paid their final respects to Mrs. Margaret Helen Chapman. The Episcopal Church, where the rites were held, was filled with relatives and scores of friends who loved the woman, who for many years occupied an important place in the citys social and civic life.

The Eastern Star Lodge conducted the services at the Pine Grove Cemetery. The funeral was under the direction of the Holmes Funeral Home.

The pallbearers were George Calanan, George Legg, Joseph Stenger, Thomas Coan, Baptiste Toccalini and James F. Colley.

TOM LEGG GIVEN PROMOTION IN NAVY

A letter from Tom Legg to friends in this city states that he is a member of a destroyer crw, not a submarine as first published, and that he has just received a promition to a petty officers berth. He states that after a brief rest at an unnamed port the destroyed is about to depart "on business." Young Legg has been in the navy but six months, and from his letters, which he makes guarded allusion to being the second Nevada City boy to mee the Jap, his parents feel assured his destroyer played a part in the Midway battle.

Here Seeking Men—

Sidney S. Clark, assistant personnel recruitment and training officer for the W. A. Bechtel Company, shipbuilding firm, is in Nevada City searching for men to work in the Bechtel shipyards.

HENDERSON, "ABSOLUTELY INDEPENDENT" CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS, VISITOR HERE

R. R. Henderson, head of a lumber concern in Lone Pine, Inyo County, independent Republican candidate for Congress, was a visitor in Nevada City Tuesday, the home of two other candidates for Representative of the Second Congressional District.

Mr. Henderson was accompanied by his oldest son, a boy of fourteen years old, and a newspaper man, Mr. Wooley, a friend of long standing.

During a short call at the Nugget office he met Democrat Frank Finnegan, also seeking the office, and the two tried to plan some conservation of rubber between them in their campaign of 500 miles of mountain roads in a congressional district larger than the state of New York. After some good natured jesting it was finally decided that each candidate would have to make his own rubebr last until at least August 25, and after that perhaps one or both could soften the hearts of rationing boards to get recaps that would last until the general election in November.

"Most candidates for public office,' said Mr. Henderson, "seek office in order to better their financial circumstances. In my case I am giving up considerably more than the salary of Representative will amount to.

"I am going to meet as many of the voters in this district as is possible in the time I have between now and August 25. I am absolutely independent. If and when I am elected I shall owe nothing to any special group of backers. I have made up my mind that congress needs seasoning with a few business men, and I think there are enough voters of the same mind in this district to elect me.

"I want to see this country get forward with the war. When the war is over I am especially interested in seeing to it, that the peace we make shall not be that kind of a peace that begets another war within a generation."

Mr. Henderson spent an hour in Nevada City, met several of the business men, and spent the night in Grass Valley. Yesterday morning he visited Roseville, and from there left for Red Bluff, Redding and other communities in the northern part of the Second District.

MORE MEN NEEDED IN SHIP YARDS TO AID IN WAR EFFORT

"Permanent opportunities for the young men in American shipyards today are the greatest ever known. Neither in the day of the famous Clipper Ships which came round the Horn or in the golden age of steamboating on the Mississippi did such opporeunities exist in American shipyards as evost today."

Authority for this statement is W. E W.aste, general manager, W. A. Betchel Co., Marin Shiubuilding Division. Commenting further on the opportunities for young men in this field, as he studied Marinship's increasing employment needs, Mr. Waste said today: "When the Maritime Commission's ship production program was set in 1940 at 200 ships a year, it taxed to the utmost all existing shipyard facilities in the United States and exhausted the entire supply of trained men. When in 1940 the program was increased to 400 ships a year, it found existing yards filled to overflowing and made necessary the starting of many new yards.

"Great oportuntities for training and advancement are offered the young man who enters this industry now. In a very short time, he can acquire the status of a journeyman in some trade and establish himself as a vital part of the war effort."

American shipyards today have a greater active construction capacity than the yards of all the rest of the world combined. The Maritime Commission construction schedule calls for the production during 1942 and 1943 of 2300 ocean-going ships, aggregating 23,000,000 deadweight tons.

West Coast shipyards may possibly hire an additional 100,000 men before the end of the year. The new Marinship yard alone will require 10,000 to 12,000 additional men before the peak.

SHIPYARD PERSONNEL OFFICER TO TALK WITH LOCAL MEN

Sidney S. Clark, assistant personnel recruitment and training officer of the W. A. Bechtel Company, will be at the National Hotel here between 4 and 8 o'clock p. m. today and the same hours on next Tuesday to talk with men who may be interested in working in the shipyards of the Bechtel Company.

10 O'CLOCK TONIGHT FINAL HOUR TO REGISTER

County Clerk R. N. McCormack will be in his office at the courthouse between 7 and 10 o'clock to register any one who has not qualified to vote in the August rimary election. Today is the final day to register for the election.

Camptonville Women Organize Canning School

CAMPTONVILLE, July 16.—The Women's Club met Sunday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Constance Pfiffer on Jackson Street and voted that future meetings would be held on Friday evenings instead of on Sunday afternoons.

The matter of the by-laws of the Camptonville volunteer fire depart ment was taken up, and the club voted to accept the by-laws as written, giving approval of the formation of the organization which the club has sponsored or interested themselves in by raising funds with which to purchase equipment for the protection of the community.

The club also voted to sponsor a cooking demonstration school to be held Saturday, July 18, at which time, Mrs. L. Fallon, an expert from the home demonstrating department from the county agent's office, at which time instruction will be given in the art of home preserving and economics. This meeting will be held on the second floor of the Meek Mercantile Company building on Main Street and all the ladies of the community interested in putting up and preserving fruit and vegetables are invited to attend.

Weinie Roast Party Given In Camptonville

CAMPTONVILLE, July 14.—Miss Katherine L. Pauly gave a weinie roast party Saturday evening which was held at the old reservoir site at the Kendall property. A large group of young people attended.

The evening was spent around a large camp fire, roasting weinies and toasting marshmallows, followed by music and song, the party broke up at a late hour, part of those in attendance going to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alva Pettit on Spencer Street and completing the evening by dancing and the rest going to the Bingo game conducted for the Womens Club by Mrs. Samuel Price.

The following were in attendance: James A. Milner, Juanita Espinosa, Dolores Espinosa, James Milner, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Rogers and family, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Betz, Mr. and Mrs. Alva Pettit, Jack Wyrick, Jack Strail, Gordon Wagonett, Eurd McGinnis, David Church, Cynthia Church, Audrey Dean, Virginia Church, Freida Olson, Alvin Olson, Eva Olson, Carmen Cassano, Robert Cassano, Francis Cassano, Leland Pauly, Myron Pauly, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Long, Katherine L. Pauly, Mrs. Iva Clark, Mrs. W. C. Williams, Richard Williams, Jack Williams, A. Cleveland, Maudie Terwilliger, and Dover Clawson.

A LETTER

Nevada City this week had several distinguished visitors. Among them was Captain Lee Willey of the United States Army. He piloted the airplane which flew Major Allen Chapman from Washington to Nevada City to attend the funeral of Major Chapman's mother Mrs. Margaret Chapman.

Captain Willey, who had 13,000 flying hours to his credit in civilian flying before entering the army service, enjoyed Nevada City and said he would like to return some day for a visit under happier circumstances.

Captain Willey said the Nevada City airport could be converted into a fine lanading field. As it was, the huge airplane piloted by the army captain just did succeed in landing. The size of the field limits the size of the airplanes which can be landed.

Another distinguished visitor is Dr. Milton Shutes, Piedmont author, who is now engaged in writing another book on the life of Abraham Lincoln. Dr. Shutes registered at the National Hotel.

The war department has announced Ralph E. Heidle of Nevada City is among the 156 American civilians who are interned by the Japanese in Shanghai. Mrs. Clarence Walker of Nevada City, a brother and next of kin, was notified to this effect this week. All of the Americans were at Wake Island.

Last minute efforts by the angling experts of the Elks Lodge resulted in good trout catches to assure the success of the annual trout feed of the local organization. The trout feed is tonight but for a while there was some doubt whether there would be enough fish for the occasion.

The problem of the proper flying of the Flag has bobbed up again, but it now appears the question is definitely settled. THE AMERICAN FLAG, EXCEPT ON SPECIAL OCCASIONS AND WHEN AN OBJECTIVE IS UNDER ATTACK BY THE ENEMY, SHOULD BE FLOWN ONLY FROM SUNRISE TO SUNSET. That is on direct authority from the United States Flag association.

But custodians of the Flags at the Courthouse, City Hall, Elks Building and Bank of America Building have found it easier to let the Flags fly 24 hours per day.

R. D. Bonne't, regional forest service architect came to Nevada City to design an appropriate sign to be placed at the entrance of the local Tahoe Forest office. Many persons having business with local forest officials have complained that they find it difficult to locate the office due to the absence of a proper sign.

The most popular song in Nevada City today is Jingle Jangle Jingle. The song is from The Forest Ranger, the production of which Guerdon Ellis, supervisor of the Tahoe National Forest, acted as technical advisor.

A resident of Town Talk said he was going to start injunction proceedings against the operation of an illicit business in the area but so far nothing has happened. Will it?

Quick Action By Nelson Stone Prevents Serious Fire

Quick action on the part of Fire Control Assistant Nelson Stone with the forest service pumper truck from Truckee saved a Lang oil trailer loaded with gas from destruction Wednesday afternoon when the Lang truck caught fire on the Truckee-Sierraville highway two miles north of Hobart Mills, according to District Rauger Snider of the Tahoe National Forest.

The fire was spotted by forest service lookout men and crews were sent from both Truckee and Sierraville. The oil truck driver, who had his arms and hands scorched in attempting to reach fire etinguishers on the burning truck, stated he thought sparks from the exhaust started the rear of the truck on fire. This caused an explosion and the fire was spreading to the trailer when Stone arrived with the fire truck. The fire was cooled down with water from the pumper tank and the trailer unhooked and dragged away from the fire with the fire truck.

THE YANKS ARRIVE

News in Rhyme Over KJBS daily at 12:30 P. M.

Written by Harley M. Leete, Jr.

July Fourth saw us make a start,
In playing a very active part,
In making the Huns in Europe feel,
The blast and force of U. S. steel.
Six Yankee planes flew very low,
And struck the Nazis a bitter blow.
Three airports felt their bite and sting—
They made the bells of freedom ring!
Three hundred miles an hour they flew—,
With swift and killing power went through.
The skimmed the tops of Holland's trees,
And like a buzzing swarm of angry bees,
They swept along in a bitter breeze.
'Twas a small attack that our men made,
But a taste of man a future raid.
A precusor of planes to come.
O fthousand more where they came from.
The flight was made in day's bright light:
Five hundred miles in the round-trip flight.
A host of Germans felt their led,
And were laid to rest in a permanent bed.
Captain Kegelman flew in one of the planes,
A man of daring and courage and brains.
His ship on a Nazi airdrome bounced,
Burning and stricken and nearly trounced.
But he held her steady and kept his head,
And silenced the German guns instead.
Captain Kegelman gets the D. S. C.
For Distinguished Service o'er land and sea.
So in the last World War, the American force,
On the Fourth of July first brought remorse,
To the Huns, and now our fighting weight,
Shall again be felt at a growing rate.
Thousands of planes in the future will fly,
Roaring like thunder, darkening sky.
And the U. S. star shall be on their wings,
As the bell of freedom, ominous, rings,
And tolls the end of the Hun regime—
So begins the end of Hitlers dream.

CHARACTER IS IMPORTANT—

In choosing a funeral director, just as in other transactions involving personal service, the character of the firm you deal with is of first importance. That firm whose clients recommend them, who have a record of faithful, efficient and honest dealing will usually receive the patronage of the man or woman who must make the choice. We ask you to give this thought consideration when the time comes that you must choose a funeral director.

CHRISTION SCIENCE SOCIETY

The Christian Science Society in Nevada City holds service at 114 Boulder Street every Sunday 11 a. m. Sunday School 9:45 a. m. A testimonial meeting is held the first Wednesday of each month at 8 p. m. The reading room at 117 Broad St. is open every day except Sundays and holidays from 2 p. m. to 4 p. m.

In all Christian Science churches, branches of the Mother Church, a lesson-sermon will be read Sunday, July 19, on the subject "Life." The Golden text will be: "As the Father hath life in himself; so hath he given the Son to have life in himself', (John 5:26.)

Bible selections will include the following passage from Matthew 6: 25; "Therefore I say unto you. Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall put on. Is not the life more than meat, and the body than raiment?

Passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures,' by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be included, which read as follows: "In divine Science, man is sustained by God, the divine Principle of being. The fact is, food does not affect the absolute Life of man, and this becomes self-evident when we learn that God is our Life," (pp. 530, 388.)

Two masses will be celebrated Sunday at the St. Canice Catholic Church. The first mass will be at 8 a. m. and the second at 10:30 a. m. Father Patrick O'Reilly will officiate.

CATCH PLENTY OF FISH

H. F. Sofge, secretary of the local Chamber of Commerce, returned to Nevada City from the Lake Bowman country yesterday with tales of fishing which if true, indicate the sport is at its best in the lakes and streams of that region. Sofge plans to return to Bowman soon to join Bill Wright, and Roy Nelson, who are spending several weeks there.

Homes of night war workers in some localities are marked with special flags in order to insure traffic quiet for daytime sleeping.

A new type of opaque glass that floats like cork and can be used as the buoyant element in the construction of life boats, life rafts, life preservers and pontoon bridge supports has been developed by one company.

A straw hat manufacturer, with only minor changes in his machinery obtained an order for 100,000 caps for army fatigue uniforms.

Certain manufacturers are experimenting in the use of glass, terra cotta, and cement as substitutes for the iron, steel, and non-ferrous metals which have been used in the past to make the four million stoves needed to supply the country each year.

Fifteen spring and bumper companies have pooled their facilities to build $25,000,000 worth of armor plate a month.

HOT CARGO BILL NOT DESIGNED TO HAMPER LABOR

By RALPH H. TAYLOR

It is to be hoped that the approaching campaign over the bill enacted by the state legislature, which would prohibit secondary boycotts and the use of so-called hot cargo practices, can be fought out cleanly on its merits.

With the nation at war, California cannot afford to engage in a bitter, acrimonious battle which will leave distrust and disunity in its wake—and both sides in this contest, no matter how they differ on the issue itself, should seek to be factual rather than hysterical in presenting their case to the voters.

This writer shall attempt to abide by that principle, both in this article and in subsequent articles discussing the hot cargo issue.

The bill outlawing hot cargo practices and secondary boycotts during the war emergency was adopted at the last legislature session by a substantial majority of both houses of the state legislature, was vetoed by Governor Olson, and was then passed by the legislature over the governor's veto by a two thirds majority. California labor unions, at the instance of Dave Beck of Seattle, leader of the Teamsters Union on the Pacific Coast, invoked the referendum against the bill, however, in an attempt to delay or prevent its operation—and the measure will therefore be submitted to direct vote of the people at the general election in November. Under the circumstances, it behooves every voter to know the provisions of the bill, the circumstances which led to its enactment, and the attitude of government officials and responsible leaders in public life toward it.

The bill, which will appear on the ballot as Proposition No. 1, is a comparatively simple and reasonable measure, at least as this writer views it. Reduced to essentials it prohibits labor unions from using the secondary boycott against employers who have no quarrel with their employees, and gives the courts power to enjoin acts or combinations which induce the refusal by employees to handle goods or perform services for their employer, because of a dispute between some other employer and his employees.

There is nothing whatever in the act to justify the trick term, "slave bill," which certain labor leaders are seeking to apply to it. That is simply a catch-phrase designed to throw dust in the eyes of the voters. Farmers are just as vigorously opposed to slave labor as the members of organized labor—and are doing their utmost, in cooperating with union men, to win the war against the dictators who would enslave all of us. Under the circumstances labor leaders should think twice before resorting to that term of opprobrium.

The bill does not compel men to work against their will. On the contrary, it is designed to prevent irresponsible labor union leaders from keeping men from working because of remote labor disputes which do not directl concern them. The bill does not outlaw primary boycotts or strikes. It in no way limits the right of employees to strike against their own emloyer. And the bill prohibits the use of secondary boycotts by employers as well as employees.

When the destination is desirable, expectation speeds our progress.—Mary Baker Eddy.

The Travel Companies Love

Here are the Smiths—sincere American folks realizing the big task that confronts transportation companies these days in their vast moving tasks. These Smiths are smart folks. They know WHERE they are going WHEN they are going and are all READY to go at least one good day in advance of departure. They also know that there is less chance of discomfort and inconvenience for the traveler who takes advantage of!—"first come, first served" service.

HELP US AND YOU HELP YOURSELF!

The Nevada County Narrow Gauge Railroad Co. is trying to keep up schedules, maintain convenience and service.

There are a few drawbacks that you can help us iron out.

One of these is the last-minute rush of passengers to secure their tickets. It takes time. valuable time—when we must leave and arrive on schedule to make timely connections with the major lines; this fact is vitally important to the passengers we serve.

If you will follow these simple suggestions you will help us, you'll help yourselves toward securing better service—and you'll help your nation in it's great on-the-move war program.

GET TRAVEL INFORMATION AND BUY YOUR TICKETS IN ADVANCE OF THE DAY YOU TRAVEL!

(THAT'S VERY, VERY, IMPORTANT)

Plan your vacation for later—the Autumn season is ideal. Plan your travel for Mid-Week if possible. You will enjoy better accommodation, less delay. Call us for any information. Phone Enterprise 10506 if you live in Nevada City of call 1010 if you live in Grass Valley. We welcome phoned inquiries.

The rights and obligations of a transportation company are founded upon public convenience and necessity. In peacetime convenience is of almost paramount importance In wartime convenience must give way to necessity.
